

Good morning. The end of another week and hopefully the last week of Home Learning. We are looking forward to seeing you back in our classrooms on Monday. We both hope that you have had fun with your learning over the last week. Remember to stay safe and keep fit and healthy. Have a great day and enjoy your weekend and we will see you on Monday!

On this day in history.

- In 1864 Oxford University met Cambridge University for the first time in a track and field competition.
- 1998 - NASA announced that an orbiting craft had found enough water on the moon to support a human colony and rocket fuelling station.
- In 2006 the nature documentary "Planet Earth" narrated by David Attenborough premiered on the BBC.

Homework:

You were set a TT Rockstars task on Monday and a new MyMaths task was set yesterday.

Writing

For the rest of this week's Writing we are going to be looking at a new Talk for Writing workbook called The Game by Maria Richards.

This can be located in the home learning page on the school's website.

Remember you only need to complete a section of the workbook each day.

For today's work we are going to look at pages 14-15 of the workbook. You can of course print this page to help you or work on paper or an exercise book.

Make sure you read all instructions clearly before completing the task in today's section.

ReadingTopic Read

In the home learning folder is a topic read on Ancient Greece Government.

You need to read the text and answer the questions.

Make sure you use your reading strategies. Annotate or highlight the text, make notes and ensure you read the questions first so that you know what information you are looking for.

Answers for all reading comprehension questions this week can be found today in the home learning folder.

Challenge

Can you read for 20 minutes without taking a break? At the end write a short summary in 50 words about what you have read. You need to record the book title, author and the page numbers you have read.

Go Read – Remember you MUST be recording your reading daily.

SPAGSpelling – Double Consonants.

In the home learning folder are two crosswords. You need to solve the clues. The answers to both crosswords have double consonants in them. For example: happily, swimmingly.

Spelling Test

You need to find someone to test you on this week's spelling words.

busy, eight, height, occasion, quarter, various, business, eighth, history, occasionally, question, weight.

If you get any of these words wrong, practise them again and then ask someone to re-test you on these words.

TopicRE

This week we are going to learn about the Passover, the Spring Jewish Festival that celebrates the freedom of the Jewish people from slavery in Egypt.

You need to read the text, which contains the story of Passover and information about how it is celebrated. You then need to answer the questions. This is in the home learning folder, including an extension task.
